THE ART OF COLOR MIXING WITH MIKE BARE

On Saturday, June 12 from 11-2, join Mike Bare as he teaches the art of color mixing. There's nothing more frustrating when painting then not being able to mix the right color. Getting the right color is a challenge and requires an understanding of color and the color/s within a color. Let Mike teach you how to think about color differently, and understand the properties and potential of each color. This knowledge is critical to painting the landscape, figure or still life. Mike is the master, go ahead, let Mike show you how to mix it up!

LANDSCAPE PAINTING WITH MURRAY TAYLOR

On Saturday, June 12 from 2-5, join Murray Taylor as he paints en plein air (French for "in the open air") just as the impressionists did at the turn of the 20th century. Murray will share how he chooses a scene and then how to paint what he sees. He will demonstrate the fundamentals of composition through understanding the use of space and shape, the use of color theory, and tricks of the trade that finish a painting off. Paint alongside Murray and benefit from his individual instruction as he walks about and answers your questions. Take your masterpiece home- this one is for the wall, not the fridge!
